

Pets and Building Inspections.

As much as we like animals, we cannot have them under foot when doing inspections at your house. For that time we are on your property, your house becomes our workplace. In the interest of workplace safety we must insist that all animals be confined to a part of the house that is not subject to our travel or inspection.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.